Synopsis

Our show begins in Mrs. Murdstone's Orphanage, where Olivia discovers that the strictness of her previous home (a convent) is nothing compared to the horrors of her new abode. She soon asserts her rebellious nature and so begins a series of events which trace her steps from downtrodden orphan to star of the stage. What is the significance of her locket? Who taught her the song she can barely remember? On her journey to the bright lights of London, she meets a disparate collection of characters instantly recognizable from shows, novels and plays set in the Victorian era. Sit back, relax and enjoy the journey.
